

Make meetings fun

Five ways to energize your club.

1. Instead of inviting a guest speaker to your meeting, invite a guest who can lead the club in a fun activity. Consider paint therapy, a storyteller, a service dog trainer or a yoga instructor.
2. Offer a hands-on project for one meeting per month. (See the pillowcase project card for an idea to get you started!)
3. Cancel a meeting and ask each member to find somewhere in town to do an hour of service instead. See how creative they can get!
4. Offer up surprise challenges. One idea: Give each member at a meeting $5 and ask them to go make a difference in the community during the ensuing week, using only that $5. Have them talk at the next meeting about the impact they made.
5. Encourage everyone to have a voice during meetings. Don't make the president stand at a podium and talk for an hour. Open it up for brainstorming. Invite others to lead the meeting once in a while. See what fresh new ideas come from giving other members a chance to lead.
